The Vote on the Chinese Immigration Bill.

The Chinese Must Go—Superintendent Towne Ill at Indianapolis—Big Snow-Storm in Kansas.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, March 10.—When the consideration of the Chinese bill was resumed in the Senate, Hawley took the floor and spoke against it. He was followed by Jones, of Nevada, who strongly advocated its passage. Senator Miller followed, favoring it. Morrill then took the floor and stated that he should vote against the bill. Farley, Edmunds and Sherman followed in brief speeches. Farley's amendment, providing that the Chinese shall not become naturalized, was then passed by a vote of 25 to 23. Grover's amendment, declaring that the term "laborers" wherever used in the bill shall constitute "skilled laborers and Chinese engaged in mining" was adopted by 25 against 22. An amendment was adopted striking out the requirement that passports shall be produced whenever lawfully demanded, this provision being considered superfluous. The bill was then reported from the Committee of the Whole to the Senate and a vote taken on Ingall's amendment, renewed by him, to reduce the period of suspension from twenty years to ten years. Ingall's amendment was rejected by a vote of 21 nays against 20 yeas. At 5:30 the bill was placed on its passage and passed by the following vote:

Yeas — Bayard, Beck, Cameron of Wisconsin, Cockrell, Coke, Fair, Farley, Garland, Grover, George, Gorman, Hale, Harris, Hill of Colorado, Jackson, Jones of Florida, Jones of Nevada, Miller of California, Miller of New York, Morgan, Pugh, Ransom, Stanton, Slater, Teller, Vance, Vest, Voorhees and Walker—29.

THE VOTE.

An analysis of the final vote on the Chinese bill shows that 21 Democrats and 8 Republicans were recorded in favor of the bill in the shape in which it passed, and that 13 Republicans, 1 Democrat and 1 Independent (Davis of Illinois) were recorded against it. Adding to these totals the announced pairs, the showing is 30 Democrats and 8 Republicans in the affirmative, and 22 Republicans, 1 Democrat and 1 Independent in the negative, leaving 14 members of the Senate unaccounted for. The record of the vote on the amendment to reduce the time of suspension to ten years was made up of 18 Republicans, 1 Democrat and 1 Independent in favor of reduction, and 17 Democrats and 4 Republicans against it. Five Democrats voted on this amendment yesterday when the bill was in Committee of the Whole. The diminution of that number to one to-day is to be credited mainly to the private exertions of Farley, who induced three of the five to change their views on this proposition. Miller and Farley jointly procured the extension of Pendleton's pair with Sherman so as to apply to this amendment as well as to the final vote on the bill. It is simple justice to add that all the Pacific Coast Senators have from the first labored unceasingly in private as well as in public to gain the victory, and that without their earnest, intelligent and able efforts of every description the bills would certainly be shorn of its most vital features or defeated outright. Jones' speech, which brought the debate practically to a close to-day and which was wholly extemporaneous, is universally regarded as one of the ablest oratorical efforts of recent years.

CONGRESSMAN ALLEN.

The condition of Congressman Allen is more critical to-day.

LIQUOR BILL PASSED.

The alcohol and liquor commission bill passed the Senate, thirty-two against fourteen.

The Chinese Must Go.

NEW YORK, March 10. — United States Commissioner Shields to-day gave his decision refusing to give naturalization papers to Hop Sing, a Chinaman who applied for them yesterday. Hop Sing said he owned parts of a silver mine in Nevada, and had been in this country for several years. The Commissioner based his refusal upon a decision of Judge Sawyer in a like case, who held that the applicant was not a free white person within the meaning of the statute.

Illness of Supt. Towne.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 10.—A. N. Towne, General Superintendent of the Central Pacific Railroad, arrived this evening in a private car. He was quite ill all day, and switched off for one train at Columbus, Ohio. To-night he became much worse, and the best medical aid was summoned. He suffers from congestion of the bowels, and his condition at midnight was regarded as quite critical. He is accompanied only by Private Secretary Randall, who notified his family in San Francisco.

A Lady Bicyclist.

ST. LOUIS, March 10.—Miss Louise Armaindo, the champion lady bicycle rider, started on a ride to-day to make 600 miles in six consecutive days.

Steamer Blown Up.

CINCINNATI, March 10.—The Times' Star special reports that the steamer Sidney burst her steam pipe this morning below Ravenswood. Two persons were killed and fifteen wounded; names not given.

THE FLOOD.

Terrible Suffering.—Women Confined Amid the Waters.

HELENA, (Ark.), March 10.—Among those brought to Trenton on Tuesday, who were fleeing from the overflow of the river were two women who have been confined, one upon a raft the other in a gin house. After being driven from their homes by the flood, and without the slightest comfort known to the civilized world, the wind cutting mercilessly around them, the mothers hardly half clad, and no garment at all for the little ones; no fire, no food. The swift current of the overflow rushing, and their anxious eyes looking for rescue. The water in the meantime was rising rapidly, adding to the despair which had already well nigh culminated. These people have generally lost all their personal property, even their clothing, the water coming so rapidly that they were able to save only themselves. Supplies were issued to-day for five days to 1,149 people by sub committees from this city.

THE OMAHA STRIKERS.

Protecting the Workmen—Stopping the Smelting Works.

OMAHA, Nev., March 10.—To-morrow morning two companies of regulars, about one hundred men, and a howitzer and Gattling gun from Fort Omaha, will be stationed at the B. & M. freight depot grounds to protect the B. & M. graders from the violence of the mob and so-called Labor Union. The B. & M. will put on a strong force of their own workmen, and they will be protected by the military until all danger is passed. The Regulars are to be called out under the request of Governor Vance made to President Arthur. Three hundred men employed at the Omaha smelting works stopped work to-day, saying they were afraid to continue under the present state of affairs, as there was danger of being raided by the mob to compel them to strike for $1.75 per day. They did not ask for a raise of wages, as they are satisfied. Most of them get $1.65 per day, and only about thirty receive as low as $1.50 per day.

Snow Storm—Hotel Burned.

ATCHISON, Kan., March 10.— The heaviest snow storm of the season prevailed last night and this morning throughout northern Kansas. About five inches fell.

The Elmore House at Trenton, Mo., on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Road, was burned this morning. The building was a five-story brick. Many of the guests were compelled to jump from the upper windows. One man had his legs broken, and it is rumored that two lives were lost.

Dredging Machine Sunk.

BOSTON, March 10.—A dredging machine in tow of a steam tug, sunk off Rice Point last night. Five men were drowned.

Senator Hill.

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—Physicians say Senator Hill is not in imminent danger.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUDGET.

The Supreme Court Sustains the Sunday Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The Supreme Court has sustained the Sunday Law. McKinstry, Ross and Sharpstein dissent from the majority. The decision was rendered late this afternoon.

THE PRODUCE EXCHANGE.

The Produce Exchange by a vote of 84 to 72 this morning decided to purchase the Merchants' Exchange property for $250,000. Thereupon two members immediately sold their seats, one for $800 the other for $700. An assessment of $500 will be levied upon each member to pay the purchase price.

A BIG JUMP.

This afternoon an officer entered the room of Leon Tong, a Chinaman, supposed to be a lottery agent, on the third floor of a building on Commercial street, and began searching for tickets. He found a package, on which the Chinaman, with a yell, sprang from a window to the asphaltum pavement, receiving fatal injuries.

AFTERNOON STOCKS.

Virginia, 75c; Union, 10⅜; Nevada 7⅛; Eureka, 19½; Jacket, 1⅛; Best, 5⅞; Overman, 35c; Belcher, 55c; Utah, 4⅛; Diablo, 5⅛; Belle, 9⅛; Bodie, 4¼; Mono, 1⅛; King, 18.

EXPLOSION IN A TUNNEL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—A Victoria dispatch says eight cases of giant powder and fourteen kegs of black powder exploded in tunnel No. 10 of the Canada Pacific Railroad yesterday, killing Hugh Craig and wounding Thomas Williams, John Lawson and James Logan. It is supposed that Craig attempted to remove a cap from a cartridge, causing the accident.

RAIN UP COUNTRY.

Last night's rain extended over the northern portion of the State, changing to a heavy snow in the mountains. The rain reached Santa Clara and Salinas Valleys and as far south in the San Joaquin Valley as Merced.

RAIN IN THE COAST COUNTIES.

Reports from the southern portion of San Joaquin county and from southern coast counties show rain extending over the whole State.

RAIN AT SANTA BARBARA.

SANTA BARBARA, March 10.—It commenced raining at 8 o'clock this morning and is still raining hard at 1 o'clock, with a strong southeast wind.

Two More Good Indians.

LAKEPORT, Cal., March 10.—Marcus and Jeff, the two Indian murderers of John Hoadley in January last, have just been executed. An enclosure was built adjoining the jail, some eighteen feet high. Within this was erected a double gallows, with the entrance to the enclosure from the Sheriff's office. At 1:30 P. M. the drop fell. It was a square fall for both bodies and death seemed easy.

Still in the Field.

BAKERSFIELD, March 10.—A surveying party of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company arrived here last night from north, completing the survey from Salinas Valley to the junction of the survey which has been completed to this place from Mojave by the party that has been moving northward from that place for the past five or six months, and have now finished their work.

FOREIGN.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

High Treason.

LONDON, March 10.—MacLean, the Queen's assailant, was committed for trial on a charge of high treason.

SAN DIEGO DOTS.

[Union, March 8th.]

Among the specially notable articles inclosed in the casket placed in the corner stone of the Masonic and Odd Fellows' Temple yesterday was a piece of stone from Solomon's Temple, presented by Dr. R. M. Powers, of this city.

Now that the corner stone has been laid, and the material is on the ground, work will progress rapidly upon the Masonic and Odd Fellows' Building.

The pile driver is now busy on the main wharf, leading from the T landing shoreward. The outer structure is completed, and it is a first-class piece of work.

The corner stone of the Masonic Temple of San Diego was laid on Tuesday before a large concourse of people. W. W. Bowers officiated as Grand Master. The stone was of white Rocklin granite.

San Diego has an Indian school with an average monthly attendance of seventy. The pupils are said to be very bright and quick to learn.

Mrs. Asher sold a lot of camphor trees and a number of other rare growths to Louis Stengel, nurseryman of Los Angeles.

SANTA ANA ITEMS

[Standard.]

C. E. French, P. M., accompanied by his daughter Gertie, returned from San Francisco last Wednesday, warmly welcomed by their numerous friends.

Ex-Assemblyman J. W. McBride, and present Supervisor of Siskiyou county, accompanied by his wife and daughter, arrived in Santa Ana on the 8th.

The dedication of the new German Evangelical Church will take place on the 22d instant, Rev. Rudolph Stechli presiding. An invitation is cordially extended the public to attend.

George Irvine, brother of James Irvine, who has one of the most extensive sheep herds in this section of the country, called in to see us last Friday, and stated that he would in April next start with some 20,000 head of sheep for Inyo county, where he learns that the best of feed can be obtained.

W. H. Spurgeon contemplates erecting an addition of twenty-five feet to the rear of his store building. The first or ground floor will be used as a business office by Mr. Spurgeon, the second floor being designed for a banquet hall for the various civic societies at their socials. Something of the kind has long been needed, and we are glad to know that Mr. Spurgeon will undertake to supply that want.

The Cassidy building is near to its completion. The whole of the upper floor is for a public hall. The hall proper is 34x60 feet, it being 14 feet to the ceiling. It is calculated that its seating capacity will be for 440 persons. At the front end of the hall is a stage, the frontage presented to an audience being 21 feet, on either side of which are wings 6x12 feet to accommodate scenery, for dressing rooms, etc.

WESTMINSTER AND GARDEN GROVE.

[Gazette.]

Mr. J. J. McCoy has finished Mr. Kiefhaber's well, putting a six inch pipe inside of a seven inch from 70 feet down to 111 feet, and obtaining a 2½ inch flow.

Mr. Matt. Coseboom accidentally cut his leg quite severely while pruning trees for Mr. Keifhaber.

Mr. McFadden and family have returned from the mountains where he has been staying for his health, which has been very much improved.

The social of last Tuesday evening was a very pleasant affair. The programme, principally musical, was well rendered. The assistance of Miss Witham who is teaching a singing class here, but who resides at Garden Grove, and that of Miss Webster of the same place, was highly appreciated.

Mr. E. C. Burlingame of Compton has purchased of A. Robinson, trustee, 20 acres in Sec. 13.

Dr. Head, Sr., superintended the planting of quite a forest of blue gum trees last week on the property recently purchased by L. H. Long.

Mr. Daniel Brown, from Cole county, Illinois, has lately purchased eighty acres of land in this vicinity and settled thereon with his family. Mr. Brown will be a desirable acquisition to our community.

Mr. George Hough is making his place look very inviting by additional hedges of cypress.

Dr. Warren is rapidly recovering from the injuries received a few weeks ago when he was thrown from his horse, and we hope soon to see him resume the duties of his profession.

SAN LUIS REY ITEMS.

[Star, March 4.]

The grape is growing finely and the stock is all "picking up."

Travel has increased since passenger coaches were placed on the road.

Mr. Judson, of San Pasqual, has shipped a large number of grape cuttings, which he proposes to set out on his place.

Considerable wire fencing is being used in this part of the country as a protection against stock. It is decidedly cheaper than lawsuits.

Government land is still being readily sought after, and it is indeed surprising to see the number of new homes that have sprung up in this part of the county during the past two months or so. This precinct will poll a big vote at the coming fall election.

NORWALK AND ARTESIA NOTES.

[Downey Signal.]

Wild ducks are plentiful and our young Nimrods are happy.

Several of our farmers are sowing alfalfa.

Mr. Albert Cooper, of Artesia, is shipping 1,200 centals of corn from our depot.

The farmers are rejoicing over the late rains and feel confident of good crops and pastures.

The merry trill of meadow larks and the blossoming of peach trees warn our farmers of approaching spring.

The Artesia public school opened last Monday with a large attendance. Mr. McKusic is principal and Miss Campbell is teacher of the primary department.

Mr. Robert Venable struck a fine flow of water in his artesian well last Tuesday. When down 180 feet he encountered another wood-yard.

Mr. Page is also putting down an artesian well on his place east of the school house.

Mr. Wm. H. Sproule, who resides at Norwalk, has about 80 acres in wheat and 20 acres of barley sown this year. Year before last, on 70 acres of ground he harvested 1,400 centals of wheat. Allowing it to volunteer, last year, he received 1,000 centals. In all he has about 175 acres of first-class land.

FLORENCE.

The prospects for a crop is very good, with two more gentle rains. Our part of the county is doing much better of late. Some of the old slow ones are selling out to a better class of men.

Mr. Thomas, engineer on the Santa Ana route, has bought the Bealer place, and in a short time those that knew the place of old will know it no more. He is digging new wells and cutting down the old trees and will fence the entire forty-three acres, and has coetracted to plant twenty acres of grapes and will make other improvements.

Mr. Butler has also sold out to an enterprising man from Sonoma county who has already commenced to make some fine improvements and will soon transform the place and make it bud and blossom as the rose.

Mr. George D. Carleton, from Riverside, who bought Mrs. Gibsons' place, is doing a fine thing. Has moved the old house, turned it around and is building on in front, 16x36, two stories, and is thoroughly renovating the place throughout, and I believe that it is his intention in the spring to build a fine cheese factory. He is a man that means business.

Mr. Stockton who bought the Goldbaum place has changed its appearance so much of late that those who knew it of old would hardly know it any more and so the good work goes on.

And we begin to think that if we can get rid of a few more of the slow pokes, we shall be able to build a new school house which is very much needed in this beautiful part of Los Angeles county.

Mr. R. Nadeau has commenced to plant the largest vineyard in the world, one thousand acres, and perhaps double that amount. Mr. Nadeau and his sons are among the most enterprising men we have in this county and it would be a great blessing if we had more like them.

LOGAN'S EDUCATIONAL BILL.

Senator Logan's bill to use the entire income derived from the internal revenue taxes on the manufacture and sale of distilled spirits for the education of all the children living in the United States, is a comprehensive scheme of popular education, which has attracted many supporters but evoked more opposition.

It is antagonized on the ground that it is a too extravagant step for the general Government to take, and that its effect would be to cause the several States, whose especial duty it is claimed to be to provide for the education of their citizens, to gradually relax their efforts to that end, and ultimately throw the whole burden of supporting the public schools upon the central government.

The tax on distilled spirits for the year 1880 yielded a total of $61,185,509. The total amount paid in the United States for teachers for the public schools during the year 1879 was $52,788,333, and the total expense of such schools in all the States and Territories was $78,385,956.

Senator Logan's bill proposes to distribute the tax from distilled spirits among the several States and Territories pro rata according to the census statistics of illiteracy, but before being entitled to share in this fund each State shall enact a compulsory school law requiring the attendance of all children between the ages of seven and twelve years for at least six months in every year.

The measure strikes us favorably. To meet the objection above noted, viz.: that a federal school fund of millions of dollars might have the effect of gradually transferring the responsibility of popular education from States and communities to the National Government. The TIMES suggests that the proposed law be so framed as to make the payment of each State's qouta of the national educational fund dependent upon the appropriation by such State of a like amount for public school purposes. This would, it seems to us, completely obviate the difficulty and prevent the boy (the State) from getting the weather guage on the old man—on our Uncle Samuel we mean.

While it is not competent, under our federal system, for the National Legislature to dictate to the local Legislatures—the States—what local laws they shall pass, it is competent for Congress to pass such a law as Senator Logan has proposed, which (as amended by the TIMES), practically offers a bounty to the States to induce them to encourage and promote the education of their citizens. Such an act as we desire passed would in effect say to each State: "Here is so much money from the National treasury for educational purposes within your limits. Raise a like amount for like purposes and the whole is yours." Is there a reasonable doubt as to what action the states would take upon an invitation of that sort? We think not. What State so benighted that she would refuse to continue her present tax levy for the support of public schools, when she had before her the sure promise of having her school fund covered by the parent government? No one!

The aggregate amount that would be raised under the scheme proposed would be more than double what is now paid for educational purposes in all the States and Territories, and would make a magnificent educational fund.

PROMISES.

The storm which so lovingly threatened us yesterday afternoon and promised to

"Break in blessings o'er our head," was a general one north. Private advices at noon stated that about San Francisco it was promising to be the heaviest storm of the season. It was storming early in the morning at San Luis Obispo, and at a late hour in the afternoon was continuing to pour down. Santa Barbara also enjoyed the blessing. At the hour of writing this the promise an aqueous discharge, and our earnest prayer is that we may not be disappointed in the promise. Readers, patrons, we wish you well but hope—provided your kindling wood is out of doors—that you won't have any dry for the next three days.

"Clouds that lower upon our house,"

W. C. WARE, Superintendent of the Pacific Press, in Oakland, a large printing house of a religious denomination which observes Saturday as a day of rest instead of Sunday, has been arrested for violating the Sunday law.

The Supervisors of San Luis Obispo county intend purchasing a ton of squirrel poison, to be distributed gratis among the citizens whose ranches are bothered with such "varmint."

SHEEP IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY.

In the Sacramento Bee's resume of the business and prospects of the State a few days since we find the following:

"We learn that the country about Los Angeles and San Bernardino has been almost denuded of its sheep, which have been bought and shipped northward, and also into Texas. One person it is said, purchased many thousand head at from twenty-five to thirty cents each, on which the freight charges to Texas were two dollars per head, and even then he considered he was getting the animals cheap. The stock ranges in the southern counties are barren of of feed, hence the desire of stock men to part with their herds at any price."

The Bee's information is very much at fault. The sheep interests have suffered severely, but in no degree as the item quoted would indicate. In a drive about the southern portion of the county the diminution of the herds can scarcely be noticed. The flocks may be somewhat depleted, but sheep are roaming all about the hills and plains. The number shipped from the country is inconsiderable, and as to their selling for twenty-five to thirty cents per head, it is safe to assert the instance cannot be cited. One lot, we are informed, was sold for eighty cents per head, but no lower rate has come to our knowledge, while the usual rate at which they have been held has been from $1.00 to $1.25 all through the drouthy time, and now there are few sheep for sale, and the price has advanced to $1.75 to $2.25 per head. A month since the assertion would have been true that the stock ranges were bare, but for two or three weeks past sheep have found feed enough to sustain them, and the prospects for good pasture increase daily. Several of the largest sheep owners of the county designed removing their flocks at one time, and had engaged pasture elsewhere, but the rains came in time to prevent many of the shipments. In this connection we will state that we happen to know of a friend of Gov. Downey, who is also a large sheep owner, writing to that gentleman and giving him the refusal of pasturage in a neighboring county which he had procured. This was at the darkest hour of the drouthy period, but the Governor wrote that he would not need the pasturage, as there would be plenty of feed before his own range was exhausted, and sure enough the rains came in time to even prevent the other gentleman from removing his flocks. The greatest damage has been in the loss of lambs, many of which were slaughtered to save the lives of the ewes. But the damage to the sheep interests, we apprehend, have been greatly exaggerated.

RAIN GAUGES.

The discrepancies in the measurements of the different rain gauges of this city has created a great deal of discussion as to the cause, but no conclusions have been arrived at by our citizens so far as we have learned. An Austrian meteorologist (M. Dines) has called attention to a source of error in the rain gauge that may, under certain circumstances, decidedly vitiate its reliability. He has observed that the amount of rain-fall which two instruments will register, will depend notably on their respective distances from the ground. From the result of experimental trials conducted during one year, with two instruments placed respectively at the height of fifty feet and four feet from the ground, the lower gauge registered twenty-seven per cent. more rain-fall than the upper one; and that occasionally when a rainfall was accompanied by a high wind, the lower one showed two or even three times as much as the upper. He attributes the discrepancy to the greater disturbance suffered by the elevated gauges from the action of the wind, and cautions meteorologists that the readings of rain gauges cannot be taken to be reliable unless made with instruments suspended at a uniform height from the ground. The gauge at the Signal Service being placed upon the top of Baker Block probably accounts for the serious discrepancy between that and the other gauges, though the other two, kept by Messrs. Ducommun and Bliss, also vary slightly from each other, and can probably be accounted for by the difference of the exposures.

It will be seen from our dispatches this morning that the Supreme Court has sustained the Sunday Law, Judges McKinstry, Ross and Sharpstein dissenting.

A Monstrous Cow.

Probably the largest cow in the world is owned by Martin S. Stakes, of Grayville, White county, Illinois. She is seven years old and weighs 8,000 pounds 17¼ hands high, 10⅛ feet long from the end of the nose to the buttock, 17½ feet from the nose to the end of the tail, 8 feet 6 inches around the girting, 26 inches around the forearm, and 31 inches across the hips. She has been exhibited in four States, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, and Tennessee. She is white and red, mostly the latter, well-formed and a perfect beauty, has two fine calves, one three years old, and the other three months old. She was raised in Posey county, Indiana.

Fred. L. Foster, late city editor of the San Jose Mercury, has purchased an interest in the Contra Costa Gazette, published at Martinez.

A ROMANCE.

SHE.

"'Tis 1 o'clock; you must quit, my lover,
Kiss me once, than all is over."

HE.

"I clasp you again to my Sunday vest,
I go; your pater has our secret guessed."

SHE.

"You must go; don't think me gruff,
But four dollars a week is not enough."

"THE CHINESE MUST GO."

Why a Respected Citizen did Not Say it in Public.

[Stockton Mail.]

"Ah Sing!"

"Hi lo!"

"What the devil kept you so long? Bring me some hot water to shave with. You rascal, don't you know that I've got to make a speech at the anti-Chinese mass meeting this afternoon?" said a well-known citizen to his Mongolian domestic last Saturday.

Ah Sing grinned, and exchanged a knowing wink with his master.

"Hasn't Hop Lee brought my washing yet?"

"Him no come yet. Come bimeby."

"If you yaller-skinned, moon-eyed, opium-eating, devil-worshiping, stink-producing, punk-burning, cheap coolie rascals don't attend to your business better you'll have to go, Shabbee? The Chinese must go."

"Hi Jo! Me shabbee. Allee same Denny Klealney. All litee; you pay me two month wagee. Me go dam quick."

"You moon-eyed hound; you ought to be glad to have a Christian roof over your head, and a chance to attend Sabbath school. Do you love Jesus?"

"Oh yesh, Me likee Chesoo Clise; fi'teen dollar a month wok foh Clisten allee sam you; shabbee?"

"Ah Sing; you shock me. Why do you allow mercenary motives to influence the salvation of your soul?"

"Me shabbe heap. Chesoo Clise Bible welly goot foh Melican man. Goot foh Melican man's Chinaman too. Bimeby we get lich, plentee money; me go back China, go to pagoda; you shabbee; Chesoo Clise no goot foh China; welly goot foh Melica. You shabbee Booda?"

"Buddha! No, I don't know anything about him."

"Cheeso Clise alle sam Chlisna. Chlisna goot Cooda man. Cheso Clise Bible alle same Booda Bible. Melican man steal 'em."

"Shut up your confounded blasphemy. What do you know about the sacred truths of Christianity?"

"You go talkee bimeby big clowde man, Hunta-stleet Squa', shabbee; you say Chinaman go. You tellem big lie. You say Chinaman no goot, makee white man hunglee. Big lie. Booda no likee lie. Cheeso Clise no likee lie. Wha' foh you have fohty Chinamen wok on you lanchee? Bimeby some man man say, 'you keepee Chinaman, you go to.'"

"Get out of this, you impertinent wretch!"

"Hop Lee down stay. Wantchee sick bittee washee."

"Get out of here you saffron son-of-a-gun. By jingo, I didn't think of that before. Suppose some of those dirty-faced fellows down in Hunter-street square should stop me in the middle of a flowery sentence and ask me how many Chinamen I had at work on my ranch. Whew! I couldn't tell a lie about it, because too many know it. I guess I won't address the voters to-day."

And he didn't.

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC BELT.

THIS IS THE same belt which is now manufactured by W. J. Horne, and which he is extensively advertising as the W. J. HORNE BELT. This Belt was invented and patented by myself. Afterward I assigned one half interest in this Belt to W. J. Horne, which he now owns in common with me. This Belt has taken two premiums at State Fairs; but as I have invented another BELT, of double the power of the HORNE & WEST BELT, and much superior to it in every respect, and which I make and sell for ONE HALF the cost of the old Horne & West Belt, I will sell my one-half interest, in the Horne and West Belt cheap for cash. Hirsch vs. Continental Fire Insurance Company—Verdict for Defendant for $4,000, with Interest.

Yesterday evening an eventful trial came to a close in Judge Sepulveda's Court. In the case of Hirsch against the Continental Fire Insurance Company of New York with a verdict for the full amount for the plaintiff. The case occupied four days in the Superior Court. To give a resume of the affair we must go back to the time Joseph Steinhart kept a stock of general merchandise in his store in Westminster. He had it insured in the Continental Fire Insurance Company of New York, the defendants in this case, for four thousand dollars. The store burned down September 8th, 1881, under what was deemed suspicious circumstances. The blame was laid to the temperance element, on account of it having been said that when some customers went to make purchases, the "goods" were some times intoxicating liquors, and it seems to be a general desire of that community not to have any such goods sold there. But the verdict of yesterday cleared this aspersion from the character of our cold water friends. These circumstances of course made the insurance company slow about paying the loss, so Mr. Steinhart made an assignment of his insurance to Leopold Hirsch, who brought suit against the Company. The trial was close, the evidence pointed, the arguments of the attorneys strong, and the rulings of the Court fair. A patient jury listened to both sides and decided that the insurance should be paid. They retired at 4:30 P.M. and returned at 4:55, taking their seats, answered to the roll-call.

JUDGE SEPULVEDA:

"Gentlemen of the jury, what is your verdict?"

The foreman then arose and read as follows:

"We, the jury, find for the plaintiff in the sum of four thousand dollars, with interest thereon at seven per cent per annum from the third day of November, A. D. 1881, to date.

(Signed) A. A. SPARKS,
Foreman."

The jury were then polled, all answering "Yes" to the vedict, except Mr. Alexander, who answered "No." The vote stood eleven to one. The following are the names of the jury: Samuel Strohm, Robert Steere, B. K. McCreary, William Slack, J. Bradfield, H. T. Harris, John Arick, T. C. Alexander, A. A. Sparks, John Philbin, A. Sutton and John Cummins. Messrs. Smith & Hupp were the attorneys for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Hutchinson & O'Melveny for the defense. Steinhart was insured for $10,000 altogether in the Continental and other companies, and this $4,000 was his pro rata in the Continental. The only controverted point in the case was as to the amount of goods in the store at the time of the fire. Steinhart claims that there was at least twelve or thirteen thousand dollars worth of goods, of which ten thousand dollars worth of goods were insured. The Continental claimed he only had one thousand dollars worth.

A MIDNIGHT PICNIC.

A Moonlight Ride and its Consequences—A Smash-Up.

The recent charming moonlight nights have fascinated the young people of both sexes, and rendered walking and driving until the "wee sma' hours of the morning' things of frequent occurrence. But a few young bloods on a midnight excursion became enraptured through the effects of Luna's beams, or mountain dew—possibly both—to the extent of reaching their virtuous couches with every particle of the "In the moonlight we will wander" sentiment knocked clean out of them. It happened in this wise: They started out on Wednesday night with two horses and a double carriage resolved upon having a good time, cost what it might. After regaling themselves plenteously around town with chocolate, they concluded to drive out in the country, and had reached Sixth street without mishap, when the horses became frightened and started off on a run, upsetting the moon-chocolate-struck young men and the buggy also in a promiscuous and unceremonious manner. The young men limped towards home, sadder but wiser men, but the horses took a picnic on their own account, parting company with each other and the buggy. In attempting to cross a ravine one of the horses rolled to the bottom and the other one caught by the collar on the bridge, swinging in a melancholy manner until a good Samaritan passing by liberated him. The whole outfit was gathered together early Thursday morning and taken to Osborne's stables on Fifth street.

GEORGE LEHMAN.

A Friend Says it Was Not Mismanagement, but Taxation.

ED. TIMES:—In mentioning the death of George Lehman you say that he built the place known as the "Round House." He did not. You say that George accumulated a considerable property, but that through mismanagement he lost it all and died in the poor house.

Now the truth is George did not mismanage. He bought various and sundry lots and improved them. He worked late and early and was not a spendthrift. He hauled water on his wheelbarrow in old times here to keep his trees and plants alive.

In an evil hour for George a heartless and extravagent City Council taxed poor George to death and the poorhouse. Foolish and rascally improvements, so called, assessments after assessments for street grades and sewers, drove poor George to borrow money to pay them at California rates. George's assessments in some cases were greater than the value of the property. The compound interests accumulated much faster than his little rents, and the result was he had to succumb.

There are hundreds of Georges that have been similarly ruined. 2.30 per cent. for taxes on property within the city limits will make more Georges and help to fill the poor house. A FRIEND.

Base-Ball.

There will be a game of base ball at Agricultural Park this afternoon at half-past one o'clock between the University and Ivy nines. This is preliminary to a spirited contest for a ten dollar bat.

The Orange Crop.

From the number of teams loaded with oranges passing through the streets to the depot, it is evident that the orange shipment is quite large.

A GOOD HAUL.

The Police Office Rigged Out With Second-Hand Clothing.

An evening or two ago some of the waiters at the Cosmopolitan had their rooms entered and their trunks emptied of their clothing. The police were informed of the robbery, and kept a sharp eye open for the "floaters." A Second-hand clothing dealer was soon found in possession of a coat that answered the description of one owned by one of the mourning waiters. The "fencer" was directed by the police to buy all the clothing the "floaters" should have for sale, which they did, until enough was recovered to somewhat placate the losers, and convict the thieves. Having now got the fish baited, Chief King pulled in his string, and he has landed, some Thursday and some last night, the two chief ones of the gang. What of the stolen property has been recovered was at the police office last night, until the place looks like a dry goods store. Five coats and a pair of pants adorn the railing, while the underclothing adorns the bodies of the ladrones who lie inside the jail. An interesting examination may be expected to-day in the police court, and the waiters of the Cosmopolitan will not have to attend another fire.

SHOCKING CRUELTY.

Curing a Balky Horse—Thirty-six Hours in Harness.

A wealthy but heathenish man, who resides somewhere in the neighborhood of Sixth and Pearl streets, has been guilty of a crime that almost makes us think this is one of the dark corners of the earth that is full of the habitations of cruelty. It appears that this wicked man of coin has a balky horse, and he determined to extract the balk out of the horse, so he hitched it to a cart loaded with sand, and up till Thursday morning had compelled the animal to perform duty and stand in the harness thirty-six consecutive hours without food or water. It seems that this case should not be allowed to go unpunished.

A Source of Danger.

A vicious dog in this city chewed the rope he was secured by yesterday until he could break loose, then rushed into the house of his owner near by and jumped fiercely at the throat of a nurse attending the lady of the house. The woman succeeded in keeping the ferocious brute at bay, however, by eyeing him steadily, and finally the dog cowed down before her steady gaze and retreated gradually to the door, when the nurse rapidly but cautiously closed it in his face. The feelings of the two women during the fearful ordeal can be better imagined than described, and the circumstance is a strong argument against the habit indulged in by many people of keeping a fierce dog chained up in the vicinity of the house.

The Height of Impudence.

After being dead and getting a decent send off by the papers yesterday morning, Mr. Repetto had the impudence to drive his mule team into town and through the principal streets just as though nothing had happened. There is no accounting for some people's vagaries, and in this instance it amounts to the height of impudence.

THE LINGARDS.

A Crowded House Greets the Star Troupe in Turn-Verein Hall.

"Toddlekins" and "Stolen Kisses" Receive Rounds of Applause—Los Angeles Enjoys a Great Treat.

When the curtain at the Turnverein rose last night it brought to the view of the audience as fine a troupe as ever played on Los Angeles boards, and to the view of the actors all the audience they could wish, for the house was crowded to its utmost capacity, and those arriving a few minutes after the set time either had to stand up all the evening or go away.

The evening's programme opened with an excruciatingly laughable comedy in one act entitled "Little Toddlekins," which brought the house down with roars of laughter at the bright sallies and its humorous hits. The following was the cast: John Robinson Brownsmith, W. H. Lingard; Barnaby Babicombe, O. Westford; Capt. Littlepop, C. Edwards; Buttons, E. Warren; Amanthis, Mrs. C. Edwards; Annie Babicombe, Lottie Wade. Scene, drawing room in Mr. Brownsmith's house in London.

But the fun properly commenced when the scenes opened up on "Stolen Kisses," the grand three-act comedy of the evening, in which to his great credit Mr. Wm. Horace Lingard acted two characters, those of Rev. Placid Dawkins, the tutor, and Grandfather Beeks.

The story runs thuswise: An indulgent mother has a foolish son, who is not so foolish as he looks. He falls in love with "Betsie Snigle," (Miss Louise Wade) the servant girl; or rather she falls in love with him. "Papa" won't consent because Betsy is poor. Betsy tells "grandpa," who at last makes it all right. Meanwhile "mamma" engages a tutor, who instructs the son "Dolly," (E. Warren). "Frank Wilde," (J. D. Edmonds) a chum of Dolly's, also joins with him in study, Captain O'Manus and wife (Charles Edmonds and Miss Lottie Wade) arrive on the scene, and Mrs. O'Manus takes a great liking to Dolly, which makes the Captain jealous. It makes Betsy jealous too. But the Captain flirts with the tutor's wife, until there is much jealousy all around. Finally the parents, "Newsbury Beeks" (O. Westford) who is constantly perusing the newspapers, and "Mrs. Beeks," (Mrs. Charles Edmonds) get wind of Dolly's crop of wild oats, and determine to marry him off to some one. Newsbury Beeks determines his son Dolly shall marry Miss Samantha Bacon, who weighs fourteen stones, and has a pug nose. Dolly is emphatic in his refusal and recounts to his partner how he sowed his wild oats. Finally, through the interposition of "Grandfather Beeks" (W. H. Lingard) Dolly marries Betsy, O'Manus and his wife are reconciled, and the tutor and his wife, "Madame Poleskie" (Miss J. D. Edmunds,) who was so very fond of the young Italian masters, again meet after a long separation. Thus happily the plot has a pleasant termination. Peace and love reign where jealousy and hatred held sway. So mote it be. This is the four hundred and eighty-second time Mr. Lingard has acted his parts in this play.

This evening Victorine Sardou's great comedy "Divocons" (let us divorce), now running in Paris, London and New York will be presented.

The troupe one and all deserve credit for the easy and natural acting. Go and hear them to-night.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Jacob Gruendyke, of San Diego, is in town.

J. Rosenthal, of Stockton, is at the Pico House.

Miss Gertie Nadeau went to Newhall yesterday to visit friends.

Bert Lewis, of Mosgrove & Co., of San Francisco, is at the Pico.

H. Grundelfinger, of San Francisco is stopping at the Pico House.

Mrs. Lottie Hawley and Mrs. J. Catalaw, of San Francisco, are at the Pico House.

Dr. Gerge H. Beach was out at Orange yesterday looking after his interest there.

J. F. Patterson, one of the prominent settlers of Westminster, was in town yesterday.

M. W. Cobb, of the Climatic Paint Co., left for San Francisco on the Ancon yesterday.

Mr. Julius Leiter, of the firm of Weil, Leiter & Co., of San Francisco, are stopping at the Pico House.

W. P. Large, of Dubuque, Iowa, arrived on Thursday, called here on account of his daughter's serious illness.

J. J. Woodworth and wife and H. Heinsch are among the passengers to arrive overland this morning.

Frank Goodall and Ely Graves are in town from Temecula. They report times good there. The TIMES is good here.

E. L. Maxwell and family, who came here five months ago from Kansas, returned to their old home yesterday by the southern route.

M. Dodsworth, of the Los Angeles Packing Company, has purchased the three lots and residence of E. L. Maxwell in East Los Angeles, for $1,900.

Thomas Strohm, the First street grocer, has just received a large consignment of first-class groceries. Call and see him. His advt. appears elsewhere.

Major Jenifer, of San Fernando, has just had the measles, but the strangest part of the affair is in the fact that the remedies applied were a package of first-class Hamburg tea rubbed all over the body, and some of Wickersham's "groceries." Jenifer can explain details.

R. R. PICO.

"The Way of the Transgressor is Hard," said Solomon.

So finds R. R. Pico. He has been making an unenviable history the past few months, and has helped the reporters out by furnishing items when they were scarce, yet as far as the reporter is concerned he would that R. R. Pico would switch off on some other R. R. and Pico 'p a better character. He was on trial nearly all yesterday before Judge Adams in the police court for crookedness concerning a lease with J. N. Maxwell at Ranchito, in this county, and was held to answer to appear before the Superior Court. There were two other charges against him. One was embezzlement of a saddle and bridle of one A. M. Ruiz. To-day Ruiz appeared before Judge Adams, and acknowledged satisfaction. Pico was then discharged under section 1377 of the Penal Code. Pico also is under charge of embezzling a horse from one F. Veysett, who lives at Elizabeth Lake, which is situated way over in the northern part of Los Angeles county. Veysett failed to arrive here yesterday, and the trial was continued.

The California Southern.

This railroad is now graded within two and a half miles of Colton, and a mile more of track-laying will bring it outside of Temecula Canyon. There is not a mile of the road ballasted, and the San Diego people are frequently taking excursions over the road. Perhaps the railroad people have some spite against the life insurance companies.
